WAR NEWS OF THE DAY TO TAKE MEXICO

German troops invaded Russian Poland today and occupied the town of Kalisz. The German army violated the neutrality of Belgium of which Great Britain is protector. The German troops occupied the Belgian town of Arlon. Belgium had previously refused to consider an ultimatum offering a certain agreement with Germany in case Belgium agreed to facilitate the movements of the Germany army.

So grave is the situation regarded that a coalition government of all parties probably will be formed in the British Isles, while it is generally expected that Field Marshal Earl Kitchener is to be appointed minister of war.

Dowager Empress Maria of Russia was stopped by the Germans in Berlin on her way to Russia and told to return to London or go to Denmark.

The Russian naval port of Libau on the Baltic was bombarded by a German cruiser which was also engaged with a Russian cruiser.

The German fleet was reported sailing into the North Sea where the British fleet is said to be concentrated.

The German ambassador had not yet left Paris today.

Fighting between Russian and German cavalry patrols on the frontier resulted in slight losses.

French officers are reported to have attempted to cross the Dutch frontier into Germany, but unsuccessfully French airmen are said to have made daring flights over Germany territory.

German cavalry is reported to have crossed the French frontier near Belfort and tried to commandeer horses.

Martial law was proclaimed throughout France where the mobilization and concentration of the various armies have been carried out satisfactorily.

The German authorities accuse the French of violating neutrality and of crossing the frontier before the declaration of war.

Neutral Luxemburg is occupied by 100,000 German troops.

Washington, D. C., August 3.—President Wilson today sent a special message to congress asking immediate appropriation of $250,000 for relief of distressed Americans abroad.

President Wilson, in conference today, approved plans for financial assistance of Americans abroad. The main features are as follows: American ambassadors have been instructed to issue "ambassador's orders" or checks in exchange for letters of credit, travelers' checks or express money orders. Steamship companies have been asked to accept embassy checks for transportation. Friends and relatives of Americans in Europe needing money may deposit any sum with the State department here and an equivalent sum will be issued in the form of an ambassador's order abroad.

The United States government is investigating a report that the liner, Kron Prinzessen Cecile, has been taken in charge by British cruisers. The gold bullion she carries is regarded as neutral until delivered to the English and French consignees.

President Wilson told callers today the United States had not directly or indirectly made any offer to use its good offices to bring about peace in Europe. He said he had not heard of a suggestion by the Queen of Holland that the United States might unite with her country to offer mediation.

FRANCE INVADED BY THE TEUTONS

KAISER MAKES SUDDEN MOVE IN WAR GAME

Sends Two Armies Scrambling
Across Frontier in the Direction of Paris.

TEUTONS REPORTED REPULSED AT CIREY

Ambassador Jules Cambon said to have received papers at Berlin. Heavy firing reported on North Sea—English vessel seized by German warships—French fleet passes eastward through Straits of Gibraltar.

London, Aug. 3.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a rumor that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria has been assassinated. This has not been confirmed.

Belfort, France, Aug. 3.—The Germans opened fire on the French posts at Petit Croix. Details of the engagement are not known.

Cettinje, Aug. 3.—King Nicholas has signed a decree for the mobilization of the Montenegrin army. It is said that Montenegro has a secret military agreement with Serbia.

London, Aug. 3.—German forces began the invasion of France without, so far as is known, a declaration of war having been made. Two German detachments entered French territory, moving in the direction of Paris.

A German force crossed the French frontier near the village of Cirey, between Nancy and Strassburg, and another German detachment, probably the Twenty-ninth Infantry, invaded the grand duchy of Luxembourg, neutral territory between Belgium and Germany, and continued its march on the French fortified town of Longwy. A dispatch from Brussels said there was good reason to believe that this force later entered France.

The German force which came into France near Cirey, which is 40 miles from Nancy, is reported to have been repulsed with heavy losses, but this has not yet been confirmed.

A telephone dispatch from Brussels said it was reported there that Germany had declared war on France and that the French ambassador, Jules Cambon, had left the German capital. This report could not be confirmed.

The French embassy issued the following statement: "French territory has been invaded at Cirey and German troops are marching on the fort at Cirey. This act has been committed without a declaration of war. The German ambassador is at present in Paris."

Germany declared that she was unable to answer the question put by the British ambassador at Berlin as to whether she was prepared to respect the neutrality of Belgium. This statement appeared in a communication issued by the French embassy. The naval forces of the British empire are now prepared for any contingency. The ships had just concluded their maneuvers, had been relieved, and were therefore virtually in a state of mobilization when the war cloud appeared.

The territorial forces of England also are in an equally advanced stage of preparedness without the issuance of an actual mobilization order.

The News of the World says it has received a wireless communication to the effect that heavy firing is proceeding in the North sea. The newspaper presumes that German and French fleets are engaged. No confirmation of this report was received.

A dispatch to the Central News says the Germans have taken possession of the steamer Castro in the Kiel canal and ordered her to Hamburg. The Castro belongs to the Wilson line, an English company. She was bound from Dantzig to Hull without passengers.

According to another dispatch to the Central News from Kings Lynn, a seaport in Norfolk, England, the British steamer Saxon, which left Kings Lynn Thursday with a cargo of coal for Brunsbüttel, Prussia, has been overtaken by the German navy and diverted to Cuxhaven.

A cablegram from Gibraltar said a French fleet, consisting of 12 vessels, passed through the Strait of Gibraltar, bound east.

TO DECLARE STAND

Washington, Aug. 3.—The state department has taken under consideration the drafting of a proclamation of the United States' neutrality in the war in Europe. It is expected that the proclamation will be issued in the next few days and that it will follow the usual lines.

AMERICAN NAVY TO BE BROUGHT HOME

Officials Would Withdraw Ships From Mexican Waters.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Naval authorities are today seeking to bring about the withdrawal of the American battleship fleet from Mexican waters and its return to the northern coasts.

It is the opinion of the naval officers in responsible posts in Washington that this is no time for the American battleship fleet to be lying idle in the tropics. It is their belief that the fleet should be brought north, held together as a united force and given an opportunity to redevelop the efficiency of personnel, which is known to have deteriorated considerably during the long stay in Mexican waters and the West Indies.

Naval officers hold that as a result of the war in Europe many questions will come up which may vitally affect the interests of the United States and that this fleet ought to be in the best of condition.

EUROPEAN RULERS INVOLVED IN GREAT WAR CRISIS MAY SHORTLY TAKE UP ARMS IN MIGHTY STRUGGLE

1. Czar Nicholas of Russia. 2. King Peter of Serbia. 3. Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany. 4. King Constantine of Greece. 5. King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. 6. Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria. 7. King George of Great Britain. 8. President Poincaré of France. These are the principal figures concerned in the probability of a general war in Europe.

ADVANCE IN MEAT PRICES

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Three cents a pound was today tacked on to the price of lamb cuts and 4 cents to the price of beef by the packers, who blame the advance to speculative buying of grain.

TOURISTS CROWD RETURNING SHIP

Antwerp, Aug. 3.—The Red line steamship Kroonland sailed for New York filled to her capacity with returning Americans, many of whom left their baggage behind rather than remain in Europe. The Kroonland flies the Belgian flag. She carries many of the passengers who were to have sailed on the Imperator.

AIRCRAFT SHOT FRENCH KILLED

Berlin, Aug. 3.—German troops fired upon and brought to earth a French flying machine near Wesel. Several other hostile aircraft were seen in the Rhine provinces.

War Has Begun

A general war in Europe is no longer a possibility, no longer a probability. It is a fact.

Through the impulsiveness of the German emperor following with another and supporting the colossal blunder of Emperor Franz Joseph, Russia, Germany, France, Austria and Serbia are now engaged in a bloody war which seems destined to involve, as active participants, England and Italy, and to cause the people of the entire civilized world great inconvenience and suffering and an appalling price in life and treasure.

Europe for generations has been armed to the teeth in anticipation of war. Each nation of Continental Europe has sought to out-do its neighbor in preparations for war. The people have been reduced to almost absolute want in order that the armies and the navies could be maintained on a war footing.

For two score years the nations of Europe have existed over a veritable volcano of war and now the frail structure of alliances between the nations, which has kept back the smoldering fires, has been swept aside and the greatest war the world has ever seen is actually begun.

For the awful cost which this conflict must of necessity entail upon the people of Europe there is one result possible and one which, if it does come, will in a measure atone for the lives sacrificed.

If, when the Titanic struggle now on is over, the people of Europe realize the enormity of their loss and their suffering, insist that all nations disband their armies, destroy their navies, enter into a solemn and binding compact to submit matters of international dispute to arbitration tribunals, making war between civilized nations impossible in the future, then the death and the ruin and the cost of the present conflict, will result in some good to posterity.

The soldiers who march forth, most of them to die on the field of battle, will not receive anything of benefit from this conflict, but their descendants may realize the poverty and the deprivations endured in times of peace to keep their government prepared for war are not worth while and that the agonies of actual war should never exist in civilized nations.

Europe has been preparing for this conflict for years. It was inevitable in view of the years of preparation that it should come. The uncivilized instincts of man have overleaped the bounds of civilization under the long strain and man must run riot until the stampede is checked.

The American people are thankful that they live far removed from the zone of trouble and thankful that the national administration is unqualifiedly opposed to war and committed to the cause of peace.

If the emperors of the European nations had had more confidence in the real worth of the "watchful waiting" policies of which we have heard so much lately they would not now be involved in a war which means all the woes and miseries of a life time crowded into a few short months.

War with all its horrors has come and the impulsive people can see just what a war now days really is.

There can be no doubt that this nation during the continuance of the awful struggle in Europe will face many crises with the involved nations and we can only hope that the sound judgment, the even temper, the true patriotism and above all the love for humanity, will enable the public servants now in charge of the affairs of state, to guide this nation safely through the places of danger.

NOT LIKE OTHER GIRLS.

The mermaid is a funny girl.
Now, this we know is true:
She's never heard to ask a man
To please tie up her shoe.
—Yonkers Statesman.

Although she's truly in the swim,
The mermaid never flirts.
She has no pesky corns to trim
And no divided skirts to trim.

And when the mermaid's dressing she
Is never so incased
In steel that she must ask some one
To button up her waist.

Another of the mermaid's traits—
She never frets or blubbers
When it has rained and things are damp
Because she's lost her rubbers.

Oh, who would not a mermaid be?
She never moans or wails,
For even though she takes on flesh
She's not afraid of scales.

And when you bid her to the show
She doesn't make you wait
For hours and hours that she may know
For sure her hat's on straight.

ACETYLENE GAS.

Carbide of Calcium, Which Produces It, and an Accident.

The immense production at Niagara falls of carbide of calcium, the curious artificial stone which when bathed in water gives off acetylene gas, recalls that this substance was first manufactured in America by accident through the metallurgical operations of T. L. Wilson, near a small stream in North Carolina.

While using limestone and salt in smelting he noticed among the melted slag which day by day ran nearer to the brink of the little stream a grayish-white substance new in his experience, but thought little of it until one day the molten slag overhung the water and began to flow into it. Then suddenly a bright white flame burst out of the molten mass and enveloped it for some time.

He drew from the dry slag some of the strange material and touched a match to it, but without result. Then he poured some water upon it, and at the next trial the liberated acetylene gas broke into flame.

Thus in 1892 accident discovered a practicable way of producing that acetylene gas first discovered in England in 1836 by Edmund Day while experimenting with potassium tartrate and charcoal. It remained, however, for the intense heat of the hydroelectric furnaces of Niagara to turn out this wonderful stone in almost perfect purity and immense quantities.—National Magazine.

Got Away From the Odd One.

A curious story comes from the people of the Niger. A very rich man died, leaving the vast fortune (for Nigeria) of 20,000 cowries. It fell to the lot of the king to divide them among three sons, and he was at his wits' end to know what to do with the one cowrie. A wizard was called in, who gained boundless credit by doling out the cowries one by one until only six remained. These he divided into three lots of two each and gave a lot to each son. The king to this day attributes this very satisfactory outcome to conjuring.—Independent.

VILLA NOT IN ON THE LATEST

Washington, Aug. 3.—Announcement was made by the Constitutionalist agency here that the armies of Generals Gonzales and Obregon have effected a juncture at Queretaro, whence they will proceed on the march to Mexico City together. General Gonzales has had command of the operations of the Constitutionalist forces in the east, while General Obregon has commanded the western division.

General Villa has had charge of the north and central divisions, and it is regarded as significant, as the announcement is made of the proposed march to Mexico City while General Villa remains unrepresented in the advancing forces.

GUARDING THE DIAMONDS.

Thousands of Miles of Barbed Wire Inclose Kimberley's Mines.

Machinery and barbed wire have supplanted the rude methods of breaking up diamond bearing blue earth and protecting the valuable finds employed twenty years ago in the South African diamond mines.

The depths of the strange, crater shaped hole in which the peculiar diamond bearing earth is confined are now penetrated by shafts, reaching hundreds of feet down into the earth, with forty foot levels. The broken earth is removed in closed trucks to the surface, where, after a season of exposure to sun and atmosphere strewn on the ground, it is hauled to the mills.

Here pulsators finally locate the diamonds on grease covered inclined tables, to which the diamonds adhere, while loose sand, earth and gravel are washed away by water.

Acres of ground covered by broken earth brought up from the mines contain possibly millions of dollars' worth of gems, and these treasure troves are protected by high fences of barbed wire, with intricate arrangements at the corners and at the gates. About 4,000 miles of wire are used in the defenses about the Kimberley mines.—New York Press.

A LESSON IN GEOGRAPHY.

Do You Know How Far East South America's West Coast Is?

In his book, the "Conquest of the Tropics," Frederick Upham Adams calls attention to some little known geographical facts:

Most of us picture Havana as nearly south of New York, when in fact it is about south of Detroit. A study of a map of the new world discloses the disconcerting fact that all of the west coast of South America is east of Detroit, and that most of it is hundreds of miles east of New York city. The truth of the matter is that we should call that continent "Southeast America."

I also made the astounding discovery that a considerable portion of South America lies north of the southern sections of North America. When we set sail from Colon for Santa Marta, Colombia, we do not head south or southeast, we point our prow northward. This is almost as puzzling as the other fact to the effect that Colon, the Caribbean port (the supposed east port), is twenty odd miles west of Panama City, which is on the Pacific and presumably west end of the canal. It is positively uncanny to look out of a window of the Tivoli hotel, in Panama City, and watch the sun rise squarely out of the Pacific ocean! Of course an accurate map justifies the sun in selecting the Pacific for rising rather than setting purposes, but it never seemed right or proper to me. Oceans should stay where they belong, and the Pacific has no business to twist itself to the east of Panama.

Alarming.

"Your son's case, my dear Mrs. Come up, is one of eclectic occultism."
"Law me, professor! Is it catching?"—Baltimore American.

Plane Trees of Cannosa.

Not least among trees which have become celebrated are two giant plane trees at Cannosa, near Ragusa, that "pearl of the Adriatic." Within three hours' walk of Ragusa, on an elevation above the tideless sea, lies the famous garden of Count Gozze. From a primitive landing place a path leads up between olives and pomegranates, myrtles and oleanders to the level spot where the two colossal trees have stood from time immemorial. The effect of the larger tree upon a spectator standing beneath it is positively overwhelming. It takes twenty-five paces merely to walk closely round the trunk, while the spreading branches reach horizontally for from thirty to forty paces and then bend upward and fork. A good sized public meeting could be held in the shade of either of these immense trees.—Wide World Magazine.

Food of the Chickadee.

The food of the chickadee is made up of insects and vegetable matter in the proportion of seven of the former to three of the latter. Moths and caterpillars are favorites and form about one-third of its food, while beetles, ants, wasps, bugs, grasshoppers and spiders make up the rest. The vegetable food consumed is composed of seeds, largely those of pine, poison ivy and weeds.

Atlantic Can Be Crossed by Airship In Less Than a Day

By Dr. ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL, Inventor of the Telephone and Experimenter In Aviation

THE distance from Newfoundland to Ireland is less than two thousand miles. This means that if you go at one hundred miles an hour you will cross the Atlantic in twenty hours—less than a day. We have flying machines that go at a greater speed than that. We already have machines that could cross the ocean if their engines can keep going for twenty hours. Of course these are exceptional machines, but even the ordinary machines of today make fifty miles an hour.

NOW, A FLYING MACHINE FLIES FASTER AS YOU GO HIGHER UP, BECAUSE THE RARER AIR OFFERS LESS RESISTANCE TO THE MOTION, WHILE THE PROPELLER GIVES THE SAME PUSH WITH THE SAME POWER WHATEVER THE ELEVATION. AS YOU GET INTO THE RARER AIR THE PROPELLER SPINS AROUND FASTER. A FIFTY MILE AN HOUR MACHINE FLYING TWO MILES HIGH IN THE AIR—AND WE HAVE MACHINES THAT HAVE GONE TWICE AS HIGH AS THAT—WILL FLY MUCH FASTER THAN FIFTY MILES AN HOUR. THEN AT AN ELEVATION OF TWO MILES IN THE AIR THERE IS A CONSTANT WIND BLOWING IN THE GENERAL DIRECTION OF EUROPE, HAVING A VELOCITY ANYWHERE FROM TWENTY-FIVE TO FIFTY MILES AN HOUR.

CORONER FAILS TO FIX BLAME FOR AUTO ACCIDENT

Colored Chauffeur, Sam Harris, Not Held Responsible For Tragedy in Which Lives of Two Women Were Snuffed Out at Traction Crossing Near Springfield—Probable End of Investigation.

"Having viewed the place of the accident, noting the position of the track and road at the crossing, where the accident occurred; taken evidence of witnesses before me; I find that I am unable to place the responsibility on either the Springfield & Washington Railway, or the driver of the automobile."

The above is the verdict returned by Coroner Howard Austin, of Springfield, after completing his investigation of the automobile accident which cost the lives of Mrs. Alta B. Gray, of Jeffersonville, and Miss Sadie Williams, of Jeffersonville. The accident occurred near Springfield, on the night of July 25th, while the Gray car, driven by Sam Harris, was returning from Springfield.

Harris, the colored chauffeur, was the last witness called in the case. He was given a grueling examination

tion by Attorney Kelfer, representing the Springfield & Washington traction company.

Harris told of his trip to Springfield on the fateful day, and where he had spent his time while his employer, Mrs. Gray, was shopping. He admitted that he had been drinking but said his drinking was confined to three glasses of beer. He also admitted having purchased a bottle of whiskey, but said he did not drink any of the liquor. A bottle of whiskey was picked up at the scene of the accident, it will be recalled.

Harris testified that he did not see the light of the traction car until it was upon him, and the next thing he knew he was in the ditch. He also said that he had no recollection of being placed in the county jail, and of being questioned by the police, but reiterated his statement that he was not drunk. He also stated that he was not familiar with the road, as he had not been over it for several months.

It is understood that no suit will be filed against the traction company and that, in all probability, the affair will be dropped without further action being taken.

TOURING PARTY HERE FROM WEST

With all paraphernalia used in camping out securely packed about a huge Pope-Hartford touring car, Mr. Theodore Gossard and family, of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived in this city to visit his brother, George Gossard and family and other relatives, making the long journey of 3100 miles in the touring car, and encountering everything from deserts to miles of almost bottomless muddy roads, and being on the road 19 days.

Conspicuous about the machine were water bottles, used to furnish water while the machine was passing through the Great American desert. Tents, cots and cooking utensils were packed on the rear of the machine, and the party camped along the roadside most of the time, enjoying a splendid outing while on the road to this city.

Mr. Gossard is the youngest brother of Mr. George Gossard, and is prospering in the sunny clime in the far west. Mr. Gossard and family will spend some little time visiting relatives here and in other points in Ohio, before starting on the long journey back home.

DEWITT REFUSES TO PAY HIS FINE

Allie DeWitt, captured Saturday, and over whose head a fine of $100 has been suspended, has refused to pay the fine, and arrangements are under way to send him to the Xenia workhouse Tuesday.

DeWitt had $20 in his pockets when arrested, and is said to have plenty of money to pay the fine.

He informed Chief Moore that he would "be good" if released, but as he had previously broken two written agreements no attention has been given his latest promise.

GAME WARDEN NABS GROUP OF SEINERS

Deputy State Game Warden, J. S. Sackett, who has frequently operated in this city, made a large haul on Deer creek, a few miles from Waterloo, a few days ago, arresting seven men for seining, and they each gave bond in the sum of $100 for their later appearance.

The men arrested are: Thomas Burgett, John Arledge, George Fasnaugh, John Dulgar, Clarence Turflinger, Glenn Porter and George Justice, all of Monroe township, Pickaway county.

THEY ARE HERE IN LARGE NUMBERS

The mosquito pest has swooped down upon the city in vast numbers and a repetition of last summer's sleepless nights, applications of all cures for mosquito bites, and general torment apparently is near at hand. In the meantime all stagnant pools and all breeding places of the pest should be treated to a coat of oil, or otherwise prepared so that the pest cannot multiply.

NORTHMEN IN AMERICA.

Scandinavian Blood Mixes Freely in Our Melting Pot.

Scandinavian immigrants in America—natives of Sweden, Norway and Denmark—now number a million and a quarter. Yet it is only sixty-four years since the first of these newcomers, straggling in after the visit of their Swedish nightingale, were known as "Jenny Lind men."

Edward Aylsworth Ross, in the Century, estimates that, counting direct immigrants and their immediate descendants, America now holds a quarter of all the Scandinavian blood in the world.

He quotes a Norwegian economist who says his compatriots own in this country property corresponding in value to the entire national economy of Norway.

Today two-fifths of the people of Minnesota are of Scandinavian strain, northern Iowa and the Dakotas are deeply tinged, but Washington and Oregon have as much of the blood as the Dakotas. Noisy industry has called many northmen to Pittsburgh, but four-fifths of our Norwegians were in 1900 still outside the cities, most of them clinging to the soil.

Our Danes are courteous, pleasure loving, though moody, running to moderation in virtues as in vices. The Swedes are more polished than the Norwegians, and have a notable love of letters. The Norwegians bear the stamp of a more primitive life, but have more pride of nationality than the Swedes and get into politics sooner.

London Now Eats Flowers.

The most up to date hostesses now provide not only the ordinary buffet or hot supper for those who grace their ballrooms and reception rooms, but vegetarian tables and nutriment for the votaries of the latest craze—flower eating. At a recent ball in Belgrave square supper consisted of a plate of specially forced chrysanthemum petals with a sauce piquante, a salad of lily of the valley blooms with mayonnaise, roses a l'orientale (arranged with a delicious strup) and violets in maraschino. The latter was really an innovation and a trifle too strong for the strict flower eater.—London Dispatch.

Woman's Aim.

SOUND UNDER WATER.

It May Be Used In The Future to Measure Ocean Depths.

Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor, told a class of young students at Washington recently about putting his head under water and striking two stones together beneath the surface. "It sounded as if a man were hammering for all he was worth at my very ear."

Next he sent a boy a mile away to strike the stones, and "the signals came perfectly clear and distinct."

In these little facts, and the other fact that sound goes over 5,000 feet a second through water to its 1,000 feet through air, lay for somebody the germ of the submarine bell signals used on ships.

Now, in exploring the earth's surface as it lies under deep waters, a great deal of time and labor is expended merely in ascertaining the depth.

"Why," asks Professor Bell, as reported in the National Geographic Magazine, "should we not send down a sound instead and listen for an echo from the bottom?"—thus accomplishing in four seconds a work now taking sometimes more than four hours.

And we should learn by the shorter method something of the nature of things below. "A flat bottom should yield a single sharp return, whereas an undulating bottom should yield a multiple echo, like that heard when you fire a pistol among hills."

"Wake Up" by Telephone.

In London a man who wants to be awakened at a certain time can call up central on the telephone and leave his number and the hour. At the precise moment his telephone bell will ring, and it will keep on ringing until he answers. The charge for such a call is 6 cents.

GENTLEMAN CROOK STILL AT HIS SAME OLD GAME

The net is closing about C. E. Schantz, the nifty forger who by a clever check game beat two local hotel keepers out of $25 each a few weeks ago, and who has been victimizing hotel keepers and business men all over Ohio and Indiana. The police are making every effort to locate this man who has come to be recognized as one of the most dangerous and smoothest crooks in the country.

A scion of a wealthy Hamilton, O., family the man seems to have developed into a kleptomaniac. To aid in his game he usually pretends to represent a well known furniture firm with whom he was formerly employed and in this way gains the confidence of his victims.

His story is told in part in the contents of a post card received Monday by Manager Griffiths of the Cherry hotel, as follows:

WANTED FOR FORGERY.
C. E. Schantz.—Description—Age 35 to 40 years. Height 5 feet 9 inches, light complexion, light hair, modified Roman nose, smooth face, weight 160 pounds; good looking and easy quiet talker; expert pool player.

Schantz traveled for H. W. Smith Chair & Furniture Company of Aurora, Ind., and writes checks made payable to himself and signs H. W. Smith's name to them.

He takes orders for furniture, but makes no deliveries; calls on trade that he formerly sold when employed by the H. W. Smith Furniture company, and generally gets the check cashed by business men or at the hotels.

I hold a warrant for this man, arrest and hold him for me.

THE SUPPLY OF BABIES.

What a Procession of Those Born in One Year Would Mean.
It has been computed that about 30,000,000 babies are born into the world each year. The rate of production is, therefore, about seventy per minute, or more than one for every beat of the clock.

With the one-second calculation every reader is familiar, but it is not every one who stops to calculate what this means when it comes to a year's supply. It will, therefore, probably startle a good many persons to find, on the authority of a well known statistician, that, could the infants of a year be ranged in a line in cradles, the cradles would extend around the globe.

The same writer looks at the matter in a more picturesque light. He imagines the babies being carried past a given point in their mothers' arms, one by one, and the procession being kept up night and day until the last hour in the twelfth month had passed by. A sufficiently liberal rate is allowed, but even in going past at the rate of twenty a minute, 1,200 an hour, during the entire year, the reviewer at his post would have seen only the sixth part of the infantile host.

In other words, the babe that had to be carried when the tramp began would be able to walk when but a mere fraction of its comrades had reached the reviewer's post, and when the year's supply of babies was drawing to a close there would be a rear guard, not of infants, but of romping six-year-old boys and girls.—London Tit-Bits.

HANGING PICTURES.

The Old Rule and Origin of the Term "On the Line."
People still speak of pictures being hung "on the line" at the Royal Academy, but very few indeed, even among the present members themselves, know

the origin of the term. The common belief that it implies a place on the walls on the level with a spectator's eye is more or less correct. But when the exhibitions were held in Somerset House and Trafalgar square the term meant something far more definite. In those days people not only spoke of pictures being hung "on the line," but "above the line" and "below the line."

"The line" was then a regular and permanent fixture. It was a horizontal line exactly eight feet from the floor, marked by a projecting ledge that left the surface of the wall below it two inches in advance of that which was above it.

A picture was said to be hung "on the line" when the top of its frame was level with this ledge. "Hanging thus," says G. D. Leslie, R. A., in "The Inner Lift of the Royal Academy," "the picture, unless a very small one indeed, was exactly at the height to be viewed comfortably by a spectator."

The rule in old times was that all very large pictures, as well as whole length and half length portraits, had to be placed above the line, the bottoms of their frames resting on the ledge which marked the line, but no lower. The line was thus preserved level, no pictures breaking through it either from above or below.

To Conserve Gold Supply

New York Bankers Confer With Secretary McAdoo

EUROPE IS ON PAPER BASIS

United States May Refuse Specie Payments of International Obligations If Foreigners Set Example—Treasury Officials Optimistic Over Ability to Handle the Domestic Financial Situation.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo had a long conference with the New York bankers on measures to be adopted in the financial situation growing out of the European war crisis. Those who attended the conference were Max May, vice president of the Guaranty Trust company; August Ulrich of Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co.; Paul M. Warburg of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., who has been nominated to the federal reserve board; Franklin Q. Brown of Redmond & Co.; Adolph C. Miller of the federal reserve board, and John Skelton Williams.

Mr. McAdoo stated at the conclusion of his conference that various methods had been under consideration for dealing with the present international situation. He said that no definite conclusion had been reached. The action of the European nations in placing their currency on a paper basis, he said, made it necessary that the United States take adequate steps to protect its own gold supply. This could only be done by refusing specie payments of our international obligations pending an adjustment of European finances if Europe insisted on making payments of that character to the United States.

Mr. McAdoo did not disclose just what plan had been most favorably considered at the conference for handling the domestic situation. He directed attention to the fact that any step that might be taken must be taken by the bankers themselves and the treasury department could act only in co-operation with the bankers. Mr. McAdoo has repeatedly laid stress on the ability of the banks and of the treasury department to furnish all currency that will be demanded for the country's domestic needs. Under the Aldrich-Vreeland emergency act $500,000,000 of new currency is available, and with the inauguration of the new banking system $300,000,000 now tied up in reserves will be released. That will make $800,000,000 additional currency. Secretary McAdoo indicated his conviction that the other more important problem has to do with the international situation and conservation of our gold supply.

New York, Aug. 3.—A strict censorship of cable messages from France and England has been established at Paris and London. Notification to that effect was sent out by the Commercial Cable company. The announcement regarding the British censorship was handed out by Sir Edward Grey, the foreign minister. Cable messages for places in Great Britain and Ireland must be in plain language, English or French, and will be subject to censorship. Code and cipher messages are prohibited.

AUSTRIA GETS READY TO GREET INVADERS

Nish, Serbia, via Saloniki, Aug. 3.—Austria appears for the present to have abandoned her aggressive campaign against Serbia in order to prepare for possible Russian attack. ## WASHINGTON IS KEPT IN DARK

Washington, Aug. 3.—Secretary Bryan announced that the state department was in receipt of no dispatches of importance regarding the situation in Europe, and he could contribute nothing to the public knowledge in the events of the scenes of war. The department has been officially informed of the declaration of war on Russia by Germany and that it has reason to believe that France and Germany are engaged in war. According to information received here Italy is striving hard to maintain a neutral attitude in the conflict, while England is taking on a more warlike front every hour.

Secretary Bryan said that at this time he could not discuss the question of American diplomatic and consular officials in Europe taking over the interests of any of the belligerent governments.

FOUGHT IN THE CLOUDS

London, Aug. 3.—The first engagement of the great European war was fought in the air, according to a report received here.

The report says that German and French aircraft have been flying just over the frontier since yesterday morning. The Germans are using the big Zeppelin type or dirigibles while aeroplanes are employed by the French. One of the latter sighted a German dirigible on the French side of the border line. The French pilot drove his machine straight at the dirigible, which was manned by twenty-five soldiers, and dashed against the gas bag. The dirigible was wrecked, and all aboard, as well as the Frenchman, were dashed to death. It is believed that the French flier deliberately sacrificed himself to deal destruction of the Germans. It is reported that the French aviator was Roland Garros, the famous flier.

YANKEES ISSUE EMBASSY CHECKS

Bryan Finds Way to Help Americans Stranded Abroad.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The United States government extended a helping hand to the thousands of Americans who are stranded abroad without means of cashing their checks or letters of credit, owing to the financial stringency produced by European war. Besides forwarding hundreds of telegrams to Americans through diplomatic channels, orders were sent by the state department to all consulates, legations and embassies to use every influence at their disposal to obtain money for citizens of the United States.

All American diplomatic officers were instructed to exchange letters of credit or travelers' checks for embassy checks or certificates. These are issued by the authority of the United States government, and Secretary Bryan said he was confident "embassy checks" would be honored by railroads, steamship companies and hotels abroad.

GERMAN LINER SEIZED AT SEA

English Cruisers Capture Kron Prinzessin Cecelie.

$10,000,000 GOLD IN HOLD

Captain Had Orders to Run Gauntlet of English Channel in Effort to Reach Home Port Without Delivering Rich Cargo Consigned to London and Paris—Incident Picturesque Feature of War

New York, Aug. 3.—The Kron Prinzessin Cecelie, a German ship laden with $10,000,000 American gold, half consigned to London, half to Paris, which was captured before she reached the English channel by four English cruisers, was supposed to go first to Plymouth, then to Cherbourg and then to Bremen. She is the finest vessel of the North German Lloyd fleet.

The Kron Prinzessin sailed from here on Tuesday and was called, and truthfully, "the greatest treasure ship that has ever sailed from the New World to the Old."

Her voyage, which has ended in virtual capture, has been one of the most perilous and picturesque opening incidents of the European war. The great liner was taken before she had a chance to try to run the gauntlet of the English channel. The reports received here indicate that the four English cruisers went out to meet her and it would appear that they must have come up with her as she was steaming under forced draught about 140 miles off Plymouth.

It is understood that when the imminence of a general European war was realized on Thursday night wireless messages from Germany were sent to the Cecelie ordering her to make straight for a German port without stopping anywhere in any event not stopping at a French or English port. It was then too late to recall the liner, which was in midocean. The Cecelie immediately started forward at full speed. She is capable of making 24 knots.

TOO MUCH BACON QUEERS ATHLETICS

Muldoon Pitcher Holds Locals Down to Shut Out and Visitors' Homer Cuts Loose Balloon—Guests Win Fairly in 4 to 0 Game.

"Too much Bacon", is the very good and only reason for the Washington Athletics inability to score on their guests, the Cincinnati Muldoons, in a clean, fast game at Athletic park Sunday afternoon. It was Bacon here, Bacon there and Bacon everywhere and the very omnipresence of this said Bacon was the principal preventative against the locals' scoring while the visitors were piling up four big tallies.

Bacon is Cincinnati's pitcher and among the 500 fans present at Sunday's game it is generally conceded that he is some pitcher. More than this he had a team behind him and altogether the Muldoons are about as fast a bunch of young players as have visited Washington in many a day.

But if Cincinnati won, be it here said, that its victory was earned by hard play. The Athletics played a good game. Both Linson and Cotterill pitched good ball and for the most part were well supported. Cincinnati's pitcher allowed but four hits, but all of these were clean. Hagerty's two timer in the sixth awoke the first glimmer of hope during the game and the grandstand and bleachers awoke and went wild. When Hagerty gained third it looked like something doing, but a moment later he was caught in a seesaw between third and home and the bubble bursted. The quick, smooth playing of the visitors during the remainder of the game kept the bags clean most of the time and no man got further around than the second corner.

Linson started the game for the locals and twirled his usual strong, steady game until the sixth when he weakened the least bit and allowed Jung a home run and the visitors gained the first two scores of the game. It was not until the Muldoons had raised their figure to four in the seventh that the Athletics came to and, behind Cotterill, finished without allowing the visitors to pass station 2. Cotterill in his two innings of play secured four strikeouts, and allowed but one hit.

The box score follows:
W. C. H. AB. H. R. P. O. A. E.
Corwin, ss ..... 4 0 0 4 3 1

Many of the workmen in the Venetian glass factories begin to lose their sight after they have passed their fortieth year and soon become totally blind. This is caused by the excessive heat and also by the glare of the flames from the glass furnaces.

The unfortunate thing about good resolutions is that they are so often made too late.

ENGLAND UNITED FOR DEFENSE

By Associated Press.

London, August 3.—Violation of neutral territory of Germany, daring frontier raids by German, Russian and French troops, clashes between outposts, the bombardment of a Russian Baltic port by a German warship, and the seizure of merchant ships by Russia and Germany constituted the striking features today of the war on which virtually the whole continent of Europe has started.

The position to be taken by the British empire remains still to be defined this morning, but it was feared that Germany's seizure of Belgian territory would be a deciding factor, which would lead Britons to take the sword in hand as, under the treaty of London of 1839, Great Britain stands pledged to maintain Belgium's neutrality.

Sir Edward Grey stated in the House of Commons today that the House was free to decide what the British attitude in the present European conflict should be.

Sir Edward Grey told the House of Commons he had given France the assurance that if the German fleet came into the English Channel or through the North Sea to undertake hostile operations against the French coast or shipping, the British fleet would give all the protection in its power.

Sir Edward Grey added that if a foreign fleet came down the English Channel to bombard the French coast, "We could not stand aside." He said the British fleets had been mobilized and mobilization of the British army was taking place, but that no arrangements had yet been made by the British government to send an expedition abroad.

Toward the close of his speech Sir Edward Grey said: "We must be prepared and we are prepared to face the consequences of using all our strength at any moment, we know not how soon, in order to defend ourselves."

Wild cheering from all parts of the house greeted John E. Redmond, the Nationalist leader, when he assured the government that every soldier in Ireland might be withdrawn tomorrow and the coasts of Ireland would be defended against invasion by her armed sons, the Catholics of the South and the Protestants of Ulster.

SALUTED BY A SONG.

Jenny Lind's Graceful Tribute to Our National Flag.

There is a pretty story told of the honor Jenny Lind once paid to the American flag. It was when she was in New York, more than sixty years ago. The frigate St. Lawrence had just returned from a cruise, and the midshipmen went to hear the Swedish nightingale sing at Castle Garden theater, and the next day they called on her in a body. Their enthusiasm and her graciousness soon brought about a visit to the ship and the acceptance of a luncheon tendered her. When she was about to leave the ship she looked up at the stars and stripes and said: "I wish to salute your flag."

So, standing on the gangway, she sang "The Star Spangled Banner." Silently from all over the ship men gathered with uncovered heads until the ship's family were all assembled on deck. Nor were they her only audience, for borne upon the still air her song had been heard by many other vessels near by, and when the wondrous voice ceased steamers blew their whistles and exultant cheers rose from all sides, filling the harbor with their tribute of applause for the beloved artist and of loyal reverence for the flag she had so beautifully saluted.—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Condors in Chile.

The majestic condor is, air men excluded, the largest flying creature in the world. Swift and extraordinarily strong of wing, it figures in the Chilean national arms as a symbol of strength. The following is one of the native devices for killing it: The hunter, having covered himself with the skin of a newly slain ox, would lie on his back on the ground, while his companion would hide himself not far away. Down would swoop the condor to feast upon the carcass, but directly the claws touched the body they were seized from within the oxskin by strong gloved hands that held the bird a prisoner. Then the partner would break cover and slay the captive with what Chaucer would have called "a yerde smerck" from a club.—Chile—Its Land and People.

WAR NEWS OF THE DAY TO TAKE MEXICO

German troops invaded Russian Poland today and occupied the town of Kalisz. The German army violated the neutrality of Belgium of which Great Britain is protector. The German troops occupied the Belgian town of Arlon. Belgium had previously refused to consider an ultimatum offering a certain agreement with Germany in case Belgium agreed to facilitate the movements of the Germany army.

So grave is the situation regarded that a coalition government of all parties probably will be formed in the British Isles, while it is generally expected that Field Marshal Earl Kitchener is to be appointed minister of war.

Dowager Empress Maria of Russia was stopped by the Germans in Berlin on her way to Russia and told to return to London or go to Denmark.

The Russian naval port of Libau on the Baltic was bombarded by a German cruiser which was also engaged with a Russian cruiser.

The German fleet was reported sailing into the North Sea where the British fleet is said to be concentrated.

The German ambassador had not yet left Paris today.

Fighting between Russian and German cavalry patrols on the frontier resulted in slight losses.

French officers are reported to have attempted to cross the Dutch frontier into Germany, but unsuccessfully French airmen are said to have made daring flights over Germany territory.

German cavalry is reported to have crossed the French frontier near Belfort and tried to commandeer horses.

Martial law was proclaimed throughout France where the mobilization and concentration of the various armies have been carried out satisfactorily.

The German authorities accuse the French of violating neutrality and of crossing the frontier before the declaration of war.

Neutral Luxemburg is occupied by 100,000 German troops.

Washington, D. C., August 3.—President Wilson today sent a special message to congress asking immediate appropriation of $250,000 for relief of distressed Americans abroad.

President Wilson, in conference today, approved plans for financial assistance of Americans abroad. The main features are as follows: American ambassadors have been instructed to issue "ambassador's orders" or checks in exchange for letters of credit, travelers' checks or express money orders. Steamship companies have been asked to accept embassy checks for transportation. Friends and relatives of Americans in Europe needing money may deposit any sum with the State department here and an equivalent sum will be issued in the form of an ambassador's order abroad.

The United States government is investigating a report that the liner, Kron Prinzessen Cecilie, has been taken in charge by British cruisers. The gold bullion she carries is regarded as neutral until delivered to the English and French consignees.

President Wilson told callers today the United States had not directly or indirectly made any offer to use its good offices to bring about peace in Europe. He said he had not heard of a suggestion by the Queen of Holland that the United States might unite with her country to offer mediation.

FRANCE INVADED BY THE TEUTONS

KAISER MAKES SUDDEN MOVE IN WAR GAME

Sends Two Armies Scrambling
Across Frontier in the Direction of Paris.

TEUTONS REPORTED
REPULSED AT CIREY

Ambassador Jules Cambon Said to Have Received Papers at Berlin.
Heavy Firing Reported on North Sea—English Vessel Seized by German Warships—French Fleet Passes Eastward Through Straits of Gibraltar.

London, Aug. 3.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a rumor that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria has been assassinated. This has not been confirmed.

Belfort, France, Aug. 3.—The Germans opened fire on the French posts at Petit Croix. Details of the engagement are not known.

Cettinje, Aug. 3.—King Nicholas has signed a decree for the mobilization of the Montenegrin army. It is said that Montenegro has a secret military agreement with Serbia.

London, Aug. 3.—German forces began the invasion of France without, so far as is known, a declaration of war having been made. Two German detachments entered French territory, moving in the direction of Paris.

A German force crossed the French frontier near the village of Cirey, between Nancy and Strassburg, and an other German detachment, probably the Twenty-ninth Infantry, invaded the grand duchy of Luxembourg, neutral territory between Belgium and Germany, and continued its march on the French fortified town of Longwy.

A dispatch from Brussels said there was good reason to believe that this force later entered France.

The German force which came into France near Cirey, which is 40 miles from Nancy, is reported to have been repulsed with heavy losses, but this has not yet been confirmed.

A telephone dispatch from Brussels said it was reported there that Germany had declared war on France and that the French ambassador, Jules Cambon, had left the German capital.
This report could not be confirmed.

The French embassy issued the following statement: "French territory has been invaded at Cirey and German troops are marching on the fort at Cirey. This act has been committed without a declaration of war. The German ambassador is at present in Paris."

Germany declared that she was unable to answer the question put by the British ambassador at Berlin as to whether she was prepared to respect the neutrality of Belgium. This statement appeared in a communication issued by the French embassy.

The naval forces of the British empire are now prepared for any contingency. The ships had just concluded their maneuvers, had been relieved, and were therefore virtually in a state of mobilization when the war cloud appeared.

The territorial forces of England also are in an equally advanced stage of preparedness without the issuance of an actual mobilization order.

The News of the World says it has received a wireless communication to the effect that heavy firing is proceeding in the North sea. The newspaper presumes that German and French fleets are engaged. No confirmation of this report was received.

A dispatch to the Central News says the Germans have taken possession of the steamer Castro in the Kiel canal and ordered her to Hamburg.
The Castro belongs to the Wilson line, an English company. She was bound from Dantzig to Hull without passengers.

According to another dispatch to the Central News from Kings Lynn, a seaport in Norfolk, England, the British steamer Saxon, which left Kings Lynn Thursday with a cargo of coal for Brunsbuttel, Prussia, has been overtaken by the German navy and diverted to Cuxhaven.

A cablegram from Gibraltar said a French fleet, consisting of 12 vessels, passed through the Strait of Gibraltar,
bound east.

TO DECLARE STAND

Washington, Aug. 3.—The state department has taken under consideration the drafting of a proclamation of the United States' neutrality in the war in Europe. It is expected that the proclamation will be issued in the next few days and that it will follow the usual lines.

AMERICAN NAVY TO BE BROUGHT HOME

Officials Would Withdraw Ships
From Mexican Waters.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Naval authorities are today seeking to bring about the withdrawal of the American battleship fleet from Mexican waters and its return to the northern coasts.

It is the opinion of the naval officers in responsible posts in Washington that this is no time for the American battleship fleet to be lying idle in the tropics. It is their belief that the fleet should be brought north, held together as a united force and given an opportunity to redevelop the efficiency of personnel, which is known to have deteriorated considerably during the long stay in Mexican waters and the West Indies.

Naval officers hold that as a result of the war in Europe many questions will come up which may vitally affect the interests of the United States and that this fleet ought to be in the best of condition.

EUROPEAN RULERS INVOLVED IN GREAT WAR CRISIS MAY SHORTLY TAKE UP ARMS IN MIGHTY STRUGGLE

1. Czar Nicholas of Russia. 2. King Peter of Serbia. 3. Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany. 4. King Constantine of Greece. 5. King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. 6. Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria. 7. King George of Great Britain. 8. President Poincare of France. These are the principal figures concerned in the probability of a general war in Europe.

ADVANCE IN MEAT PRICES

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Three cents a pound was today tacked on to the price of lamb cuts and 4 cents to the price of beef by the packers, who blame the advance to speculative buying of grain.

TOURISTS CROWD RETURNING SHIP

Antwerp, Aug. 3.—The Red line steamship Kroonland sailed for New York filled to her capacity with returning Americans, many of whom left their baggage behind rather than remain in Europe. The Kroonland flies the Belgian flag. She carries many of the passengers who were to have sailed on the Imperator.

AIRCRAFT SHOT FRENCH KILLED

Berlin, Aug. 3.—German troops fired

War Has Begun

A general war in Europe is no longer a possibility, no longer a probability. It is a fact.

Through the impulsiveness of the German emperor following with another and supporting the colossal blunder of Emperor Franz Joseph, Russia, Germany, France, Austria and Servia are now engaged in a bloody war which seems destined to involve, as active participants, England and Italy, and to cause the people of the entire civilized world great inconvenience and suffering and an appalling price in life and treasure.

Europe for generations has been armed to the teeth in anticipation of war. Each nation of Continental Europe has sought to out-do its neighbor in preparations for war. The people have been reduced to almost absolute want in order that the armies and the navies could be maintained on a war footing.

For two score years the nations of Europe have existed over a veritable volcano of war and now the frail structure of alliances between the nations, which has kept back the smoldering fires, has been swept aside and the greatest war the world has ever seen is actually begun.

For the awful cost which this conflict must of necessity entail upon the people of Europe there is one result possible and one which, if it does come, will in a measure atone for the lives sacrificed.

If, when the Titanic struggle now on is over, the people of Europe realize the enormity of their loss and their suffering, insist that all nations disband their armies, destroy their navies, enter into a solemn and binding compact to submit matters of international dispute to arbitration tribunals, making war between civilized nations impossible in the future, then the death and the ruin and the cost of the present conflict, will result in some good to posterity.

The soldiers who march forth, most of them to die on the field of battle, will not receive anything of benefit from this conflict, but their descendants may realize the poverty and the deprivations endured in times of peace to keep their government prepared for war are not worth while and that the agonies of actual war should never exist in civilized nations.

Europe has been preparing for this conflict for years. It was inevitable in view of the years of preparation that it should come. The uncivilized instincts of man have overleaped the bounds of civilization under the long strain and man must run riot until the stampede is checked.

The American people are thankful that they live far removed from the zone of trouble and thankful that the national administration is unqualifiedly opposed to war and committed to the cause of peace.

If the emperors of the European nations had had more confidence in the real worth of the "watchful waiting" policies of which we have heard so much lately they would not now be involved in a war which means all the woes and miseries of a life time crowded into a few short months.

War with all its horrors has come and the impulsive people can see just what a war now days really is.

There can be no doubt that this nation during the continuance of the awful struggle in Europe will face many crises with the involved nations and we can only hope that the sound judgment, the even temper, the true patriotism and above all the love for humanity, will enable the public servants now in charge of the affairs of state, to guide this nation safely through the places of danger.

NOT LIKE OTHER GIRLS.

The mermaid is a funny girl.
Now, this we know is true:
She's never heard to ask a man
To please tie up her shoe.
—Yonkers Statesman.

Although she's truly in the swim,
The mermaid never flirts.
She has no pesky corns to trim
And no divided skirts.
—Youngstown Telegram.

And when the mermaid's dressing she
Is never so incased
In steel that she must ask some one
To button up her waist.
—Johnstown Democrat.

Another of the mermaid's traits—
She never frets or bubbles
When it has rained and things are damp
Because she's lost her rubbers.
—New York Globe.

Oh, who would not a mermaid be?
She never moans or wails,
For even though she takes on flesh
She's not afraid of scales.
—Washington Post.

And when you bid her to the show
She doesn't make you wait
For hours and hours that she may know
For sure her hat's on straight.
—Nashville Tennessean.

ACETYLENE GAS.

Carbide of Calcium, Which Produces It, and an Accident.

The immense production at Niagara falls of carbide of calcium, the curious artificial stone which when bathed in water gives off acetylene gas, recalls that this substance was first manufactured in America by accident through the metallurgical operations of T. L. Wilson, near a small stream in North Carolina.

While using limestone and salt in smelting he noticed among the melted slag which day by day ran nearer to the brink of the little stream a grayish-white substance new in his experience, but thought little of it until one day the molten slag overhung the water and began to flow into it. Then suddenly a bright white flame burst out of the molten mass and enveloped it for some time.

He drew from the dry slag some of the strange material and touched a match to it, but without result. Then he poured some water upon it, and at the next trial the liberated acetylene gas broke into flame.

Thus in 1892 accident discovered a practicable way of producing that acetylene gas first discovered in England in 1836 by Edmund Day while experimenting with potassium tartrate and charcoal. It remained, however, for the intense heat of the hydroelectric furnaces of Niagara to turn out this wonderful stone in almost perfect purity and immense quantities.—National Magazine.

Got Away From the Odd One.

A curious story comes from the people of the Niger. A very rich man died, leaving the vast fortune (for Nigeria) of 20,001 cowries. It fell to the lot of the king to divide them among three sons, and he was at his wits' end to know what to do with the one cowrie. A wizard was called in, who gained boundless credit by doling out the cowries one by one until only six remained. These he divided into three lots of two each and gave a lot to each son. The king to this day attributes this very satisfactory outcome to conjuring.—Independent.

VILLA NOT IN ON THE LATEST

Washington, Aug. 3.—Announcement was made by the Constitutionalist agency here that the armies of Generals Gonzales and Obregon have effected a juncture at Queretaro, whence they will proceed on the march to Mexico City together. General Gonzales has had command of the operations of the Constitutionalist forces in the east, while General Obregon has commanded the western division.

General Villa has had charge of the north and central divisions, and it is regarded as significant, as the announcement is made of the proposed march to Mexico City while General Villa remains unrepresented in the advancing forces.

GUARDING THE DIAMONDS.

Thousands of Miles of Barbed Wire Inclose Kimberley's Mines.

Machinery and barbed wire have supplanted the rude methods of breaking up diamond bearing blue earth and protecting the valuable finds employed twenty years ago in the South African diamond mines.

The depths of the strange, crater shaped hole in which the peculiar diamond bearing earth is confined are now penetrated by shafts, reaching hundreds of feet down into the earth, with forty foot levels. The broken earth is removed in closed trucks to the surface, where, after a season of exposure to sun and atmosphere strewn on the ground, it is hauled to the mills.

Here pulsators finally locate the diamonds on grease covered inclined tables, to which the diamonds adhere, while loose sand, earth and gravel are washed away by water.

Acres of ground covered by broken earth brought up from the mines contain possibly millions of dollars' worth of gems, and these treasure troves are protected by high fences of barbed wire, with intricate arrangements at the corners and at the gates. About 4,000 miles of wire are used in the defenses about the Kimberley mines.—New York Press.

"I can't see a bit of difference," declared the old farmer. "What do you miss?"

A LESSON IN GEOGRAPHY.

Do You Know How Far East South America's West Coast Is?

In his book, the "Conquest of the Tropics," Frederick Upham Adams calls attention to some little known geographical facts:

Most of us picture Havana as nearly south of New York, when in fact it is about south of Detroit. A study of a map of the new world discloses the disconcerting fact that all of the west coast of South America is east of Detroit, and that most of it is hundreds of miles east of New York city. The truth of the matter is that we should call that continent "Southeast America."

I also made the astounding discovery that a considerable portion of South America lies north of the southern sections of North America. When we set sail from Colon for Santa Marta, Colombia, we do not head south or southeast, we point our prow northeast. This is almost as puzzling as the other fact to the effect that Colon, the Caribbean port (the supposed east port), is twenty odd miles west of Panama City, which is on the Pacific and presumably west end of the canal. It is positively uncanny to look out of a window of the Tivoli hotel, in Panama City, and watch the sun rise squarely out of the Pacific ocean! Of course an accurate map justifies the sun in selecting the Pacific for rising rather than setting purposes, but it never seemed right or proper to me. Oceans should stay where they belong, and the Pacific has no business to twist itself to the east of Panama.

Alarming.

"Your son's case, my dear Mrs. Come-up, is one of eclectic occultism."
"Law me, professor! Is it catching?"—Baltimore American.

Plane Trees of Cannosa.

Not least among trees which have become celebrated are two giant plane trees at Cannosa, near Ragusa, that "pearl of the Adriatic." Within three hours' walk of Ragusa, on an elevation above the tideless sea, lies the famous garden of Count Gozze. From a primitive landing place a path leads up between olives and pomegranates, myrtles and oleanders to the level spot where the two colossal trees have stood from time immemorial. The effect of the larger tree upon a spectator standing beneath it is positively overwhelming. It takes twenty-five paces merely to walk closely round the trunk, while the spreading branches reach horizontally for from thirty to forty paces and then bend upward and fork. A good sized public meeting could be held in the shade of either of these immense trees.—Wide World Magazine.

Food of the Chickadee.

The food of the chickadee is made up of insects and vegetable matter in the proportion of seven of the former to three of the latter. Moths and caterpillars are favorites and form about one-third of its food, while beetles, ants, wasps, bugs, grasshoppers and spiders make up the rest. The vegetable food consumed is composed of seeds, largely those of pine, poison ivy and weeds.

Atlantic Can Be Crossed by Airship In Less Than a Day

By Dr. ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL, Inventor of the Telephone and Experimenter in Aviation

THE distance from Newfoundland to Ireland is less than two thousand miles. This means that if you go at one hundred miles an hour you will cross the Atlantic in twenty hours—less than a day. We have flying machines that go at a greater speed than that. We already have machines that could cross the ocean if their engines can keep going for twenty hours. Of course these are exceptional machines, but even the ordinary machines of today make fifty miles an hour.

NOW, A FLYING MACHINE FLIES FASTER AS YOU GO HIGHER UP, BECAUSE THE RARER AIR OFFERS LESS RESISTANCE TO THE MOTION, WHILE THE PROPELLER GIVES THE SAME PUSH WITH THE SAME POWER WHATEVER THE ELEVATION. AS YOU GET INTO THE RARER AIR THE PROPELLER SPINS AROUND FASTER. A FIFTY MILE AN HOUR MACHINE FLYING TWO MILES HIGH IN THE AIR—AND WE HAVE MACHINES THAT HAVE GONE TWICE AS HIGH AS THAT—WILL FLY MUCH FASTER THAN FIFTY MILES AN HOUR. THEN AT AN ELEVATION OF TWO MILES IN THE AIR THERE IS A CONSTANT WIND BLOWING IN THE GENERAL DIRECTION OF EUROPE, HAVING A VELOCITY ANYWHERE FROM TWENTY-FIVE TO FIFTY MILES AN HOUR.

CORONER FAILS TO FIX BLAME FOR AUTO ACCIDENT

Colored Chauffeur, Sam Harris, Not Held Responsible For Tragedy in Which Lives of Two Women Were Snuffed Out at Traction Crossing Near Springfield—Probable End of Investigation.

"Having viewed the place of the accident, noting the position of the track and road at the crossing where the accident occurred; taken evidence of witnesses before me; I find that I am unable to place the responsibility on either the Springfield & Washington Railway, or the driver of the automobile."

The above is the verdict returned by Coroner Howard Austin, of Springfield, after completing his investigation of the automobile accident which cost the lives of Mrs. Alta B. Gray, of Jeffersonville, and Miss Sadie Williams, of Jeffersonville. The accident occurred near Springfield, on the night of July 25th., while the Gray car, driven by Sam Harris, was returning from Springfield.

Harris, the colored chauffeur, was the last witness called in the case. He was given a grueling examination by Attorney Kelfer, representing the Springfield & Washington traction company.

Harris told of his trip to Springfield on the fateful day, and where he had spent his time while his employer, Mrs. Gray, was shopping. He admitted that he had been drinking but said his drinking was confined to three glasses of beer. He also admitted having purchased a bottle of whiskey, but said he did not drink any of the liquor. A bottle of whiskey was picked up at the scene of the accident, it will be recalled.

Harris testified that he did not see the light of the traction car until it was upon him, and the next thing he knew he was in the ditch. He also said that he had no recollection of being placed in the county jail, and of being questioned by the police, but reiterated his statement that he was not drunk. He also stated that he was not familiar with the road, as he had not been over it for several months.

It is understood that no suit will be filed against the traction company and that, in all probability, the affair will be dropped without further action being taken.

He informed Chief Moore that he would "be good" if released, but as he had previously broken two written agreements no attention has been given his latest promise.

NORTHMEN IN AMERICA.

Scandinavian Blood Mixes Freely in Our Melting Pot.

Scandinavian immigrants in America—natives of Sweden, Norway and Denmark—now number a million and a quarter. Yet it is only sixty-four years since the first of these newcomers, straggling in after the visit of their Swedish nightingale, were known as "Jenny Lind men."

Edward Aylsworth Ross, in the Century, estimates that, counting direct immigrants and their immediate descendants, America now holds a quarter of all the Scandinavian blood in the world.

He quotes a Norwegian economist who says his compatriots own in this country property corresponding in value to the entire national economy of Norway.

Today two-fifths of the people of Minnesota are of Scandinavian strain, northern Iowa and the Dakotas are deeply tinged, but Washington and Oregon have as much of the blood as the Dakotas. Noisy industry has called many northmen to Pittsburgh, but four-fifths of our Norwegians were in 1900 still outside the cities, most of them clinging to the soil.

Our Danes are courteous, pleasure loving, though moody, running to moderation in virtues as in vices. The Swedes are more polished than the Norwegians, and have a notable love of letters. The Norwegians bear the stamp of a more primitive life, but have more pride of nationality than the Swedes and get into politics sooner.

London Now Eats Flowers.

The most up to date hostesses now provide not only the ordinary buffet or hot supper for those who grace their ballrooms and reception rooms, but vegetarian tables and nutriment for the votaries of the latest craze—flower eating. At a recent ball in Belgrave square supper consisted of a plate of specially forced chrysanthemum petals with a sauce piquante, a salad of lily of the valley blooms with mayonnaise, roses a l'orientale (arranged with a delicious strup) and violets in marshino. The latter was really an innovation and a trifle too strong for the strict flower eater.—London Dispatch.

SOUND UNDER WATER.

It May Be Used In The Future to Measure Ocean Depths.

Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor, told a class of young students at Washington recently about putting his head under water and striking two stones together beneath the surface. "It sounded as if a man were hammering for all he was worth at my very ear."

Next he sent a boy a mile away to strike the stones, and "the signals came perfectly clear and distinct."

In these little facts, and the other fact that sound goes over 5,000 feet a second through water to its 1,000 feet through air, lay for somebody the germ of the submarine bell signals used on ships.

Now, in exploring the earth's surface as it lies under deep waters, a great deal of time and labor is expended merely in ascertaining the depth.

"Why," asks Professor Bell, as reported in the National Geographic Magazine, "should we not send down a sound instead and listen for an echo from the bottom?"—thus accomplishing in four seconds a work now taking sometimes more than four hours.

And we should learn by the shorter method something of the nature of things below. "A flat bottom should yield a single sharp return, whereas an undulating bottom should yield a multiple echo, like that heard when you fire a pistol among hills."

"Wake Up" by Telephone.

In London a man who wants to be awakened at a certain time can call up central on the telephone and leave his number and the hour. At the precise moment his telephone bell will ring, and it will keep on ringing until he answers. The charge for such a call is 6 cents.

THE SUPPLY OF BABIES.

What a Procession of Those Born in One Year Would Mean.

It has been computed that about 30,000,000 babies are born into the world each year. The rate of production is, therefore, about seventy per minute, or more than one for every beat of the clock.

With the one-a-second calculation every reader is familiar, but it is not every one who stops to calculate what this means when it comes to a year's supply. It will, therefore, probably startle a good many persons to find, on the authority of a well known statistician, that could the infants of a year be ranged in a line in cradles, the cradles would extend around the globe.

The same writer looks at the matter in a more picturesque light. He imagines the babies being carried past a given point in their mothers' arms, one by one, and the procession being kept up night and day until the last hour in the twelfth month had passed by. A sufficiently liberal rate is allowed, but even in going past at the rate of twenty a minute, 1,200 an hour, during the entire year, the reviewer at his post would have seen only the sixth part of the infantile host.

In other words, the babe that had to be carried when the tramp began would be able to walk when but a mere fraction of its comrades had reached the reviewer's post, and when the year's supply of babies was drawing to a close there would be a rear guard, not of infants, but of romping six-year-old boys and girls.—London Tit-Bits.

HANGING PICTURES.

The Old Rule and Origin of the Term "On the Line."

People still speak of pictures being hung "on the line" at the Royal Academy, but very few indeed, even among the present members themselves, know

the origin of the term. The common belief that it implies a place on the walls on the level with a spectator's eye is more or less correct. But when the exhibitions were held in Somerset House and Trafalgar square the term meant something far more definite. In those days people not only spoke of pictures being hung "on the line," but "above the line" and "below the line." "The line" was then a regular and permanent fixture. It was a horizontal line exactly eight feet from the floor, marked by a projecting ledge that left the surface of the wall below it two inches in advance of that which was above it.

A picture was said to be hung "on the line" when the top of its frame was level with this ledge. "Hanging thus," says G. D. Leslie, R. A., in "The Inner Lift of the Royal Academy," "the picture, unless a very small one indeed, was exactly at the height to be viewed comfortably by a spectator."

The rule in old times was that all very large pictures, as well as whole length and half length portraits, had to be placed above the line, the bottoms of their frames resting on the ledge which marked the line, but no lower. The line was thus preserved level, no pictures breaking through it either from above or below.

New York Bankers Confer With Secretary McAdoo.

EUROPE IS ON PAPER BASIS

United States May Refuse Specie Payments of International Obligations If Foreigners Set Example—Treasury Officials Optimistic Over Ability to Handle the Domestic Financial Situation.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo had a long conference with the New York bankers on measures to be adopted in the financial situation growing out of the European war crisis. Those who attended the conference were Max May, vice president of the Guaranty Trust company; August Ulrich of Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co.; Paul M. Warburg of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., who has been nominated to the federal reserve board; Franklin Q. Brown of Redmond & Co.; Adolph C. Miller of the federal reserve board, and John Skelton Williams.

Mr. McAdoo stated at the conclusion of his conference that various methods had been under consideration for dealing with the present international situation. He said that no definite conviction had been reached. The action of the European nations in placing their currency on a paper basis, he said, made it necessary that the United States take adequate steps to protect its own gold supply. This could only be done by refusing specie payments of our international obligations pending an adjustment of European finances if Europe insisted on making payments of that character to the United States.

Mr. McAdoo did not disclose just what plan had been most favorably considered at the conference for handling the domestic situation. He directed attention to the fact that any step that might be taken must be taken by the bankers themselves and the treasury department could act only in co-operation with the bankers.

Mr. McAdoo has repeatedly laid stress on the ability of the banks and of the treasury department to furnish all currency that will be demanded for the country's domestic needs. Under the Aldrich-Vreeland emergency act $500,000,000 of new currency is

London, Aug. 3.—The first engagement of the great European war was fought in the air, according to a report received here.

The report says that German and French aircraft have been flying just over the frontier since yesterday morning. The Germans are using the big Zeppelin type or dirigibles while aeroplanes are employed by the French fliers. One of the latter sighted a German dirigible on the French side of the border line. The French pilot drove his machine straight at the dirigible, which was manned by twenty-five soldiers, and dashed against the gas bag. The dirigible was wrecked, and all aboard, as well as the Frenchman, were dashed to death. It is believed that the French flier deliberately sacrificed himself to deal destruction of the Germans. It is reported that the French aviator was Roland Garros, the famous flier.

Bryan Finds Way to Help Americans Stranded Abroad.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The United States government extended a helping hand to the thousands of Americans who are stranded abroad without means of cashing their checks or letters of credit, owing to the financial stringency produced by European war. Besides forwarding hundreds of telegrams to Americans through diplomatic channels, orders were sent by the state department to all consulates, legations and embassies to use every influence at their disposal to obtain money for citizens of the United States.

All American diplomatic officers were instructed to exchange letters of credit or travelers' checks for embassy checks or certificates. These are issued by the authority of the United States government, and Secretary Bryan said he was confident "embassy checks" would be honored by railroads, steamship companies and hotels abroad.

GERMAN LINER SEIZED AT SEA

English Cruisers Capture Kron Prinzessin Cecelie.

AND $10,000,000 GOLD IN HOLD

Captain Had Orders to Run Gauntlet of English Channel In Effort to Reach Home Port Without Delivering Rich Cargo Consigned to London and Paris—Incident Picturesque Feature of War

New York, Aug. 3.—The Kron Prinzessin Cecelie, a German ship laden with $10,000,000 American gold, half designed to London, half to Paris, which was captured before she reached the English channel by four English cruisers, was supposed to go first to Plymouth, then to Cherbourg and then to Bremen. She is the finest vessel of the North German Lloyd fleet.

The Kron Prinzessin sailed from here on Tuesday and was called, and truthfully, "the greatest treasure ship that has ever sailed from the New World to the Old."

Her voyage, which has ended in virtual capture, has been one of the most perilous and picturesque opening incidents of the European war. The great liner was taken before she had a chance to try to run the gauntlet of the English channel. The reports received here indicate that the four English cruisers went out to meet her and it would appear that they must have come up with her as she was steaming under forced draught about 140 miles off Plymouth.

It is understood that when the imminence of a general European war was realized on Thursday night wireless messages from Germany were sent to the Cecelie ordering her to make straight for a German port without stopping anywhere in any event not stopping at a French or English port. It was then too late to recall the liner, which was in midocean. The Cecelie immediately started forward at full speed. She is capable of making 24 knots.

TOO MUCH BACON QUEERS ATHLETICS

Muldoon Pitcher Holds Locals Down to Shut Out and Visitors' Homer Cuts Loose Balloon—Guests Win
Fairly in 4 to 0 Game.

"Too much Bacon," is the very good and only reason for the Washington Athletics inability to score on their guests, the Cincinnati Muldoons, in a clean, fast game at Athletic park Sunday afternoon. It was Bacon here, Bacon there and Bacon everywhere and the very omnipresence of this said Bacon was the principal preventative against the locals' scoring while the visitors were piling up four big tallies.

Bacon is Cincinnati's pitcher and among the 500 fans present at Sunday's game it is generally conceded that he is some pitcher. More than this he had a team behind him and altogether the Muldoons are about as fast a bunch of young players as have visited Washington in many a day.

But if Cincinnati won, be it here said, that its victory was earned by hard play. The Athletics played a good game. Both Linson and Cotterill pitched good ball and for the most part were well supported. Cincinnati's pitcher allowed but four hits, but all of these were clean.
Hagerty's two timer in the sixth awoke the first glimmer of hope during the game and the grandstand and bleachers awoke and went wild.
When Hagerty gained third it looked like something doing, but a moment later he was caught in a see-saw between third and home and the bubble burst. The quick, smooth playing of the visitors during the remainder of the game kept the bags clean most of the time and no man got further around than the second corner.

Linson started the game for the locals and twirled his usual strong, steady game until the sixth when he weakened the least bit and allowed Jung a home run and the visitors gained the first two scores of the game. It was not until the Muldoons had raised their figure to four in the seventh that the Athletics came to and, behind Cotterill, finished without allowing the visitors to pass Station 2. Cotterill in his two innings of play secured four strikeouts, and allowed but one hit.

The box score follows:
W. C. H. AB. H. R. PO. A. E.
Corwin, ss.....4 0 0 4 3 1

GERMAN INVASION BEGUN BY RUSSIA

Armed Forces Cross Border at Several Points.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Russia has begun
the invasion of German territory, Russian forces having crossed the German frontier at Schwinden, southeast of Bialla, while a Russian patrol entered Germany near Eichenreid, in Posen.

A telegram received here from Koenigsberg says a Russian patrol also has entered Eydkunnen, on the Russian border. It advanced to Bilderweitschen, near Eydkunnen, where it destroyed the local postoffice.

An official statement says:
"In consequence of a Russian attack on German territory, Germany is in a state of war with Russia. The French reply to the German representations is of an unsatisfactory character.

"Moreover, France has mobilized and an outbreak of war with France must therefore be reckoned with any day or any moment."

Another statement declares that Russia has invaded Germany during a time of peace, "in flagrant contradiction of Russia's peaceful assurances."

The Russian column which crossed the frontier at Schwinden was accompanied by artillery.

Two squadrons of Russian Cossacks are riding in the direction of Johannesburg, in east Prussia, fifteen miles from the frontier.

The Russian patrol which entered near Eichenreid attacked the German guard at the railroad bridge over the Warthe. The attack was repulsed.
Two Germans were slightly wounded.

The above information was given out by the imperial staff. The staff at the same time said that the invasion near Schwinden showed that war had actually begun.

PROMISE BIG MONEY ISSUE

New York, Aug. 3.—Measures to protect the banking institutions not only of this city and state, but of the entire country, and to prevent the export of gold were discussed by the leading bankers of this city at the Hotel Vanderbilt with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, Comptroller of the Currency Williams and Messrs.
Harding and Hamlin of the new federal reserve board. After a conference of the federal authorities with a score of bankers of the city, including J. P. Morgan, assurances were given that the banking situation had been protected and that the conservation of the gold supply would be accomplished.

Secretary McAdoo issued a statement after the meeting in which he said that $100,000,000 of additional currency would be issued for banks throughout the country. He said furthermore that the banks here will be able to meet the demands of their country banks for money.

LABOR TO MARCH

Work That Blinds.

Many of the workmen in the Venetian glass factories begin to lose their sight after they have passed their fortieth year and soon become totally blind. This is caused by the excessive heat and also by the glare of the flames from the glass furnaces.

The unfortunate thing about good resolutions is that they are so often made too late.

ENGLAND UNITED FOR DEFENSE

By Associated Press.

London, August 3.—Violation of neutral territory of Germany, daring frontier raids by German, Russian and French troops, clashes between outposts, the bombardment of a Russian Baltic port by a German warship, and the seizure of merchant ships by Russia and Germany constituted the striking features today of the war on which virtually the whole continent of Europe has started.

The position to be taken by the British empire remains still to be defined this morning, but it was feared that Germany's seizure of Belgian territory would be a deciding factor, which would lead Britons to take the sword in hand as, under the treaty of London of 1839, Great Britain stands pledged to maintain Belgium's neutrality.

Sir Edward Grey stated in the House of Commons today that the House was free to decide what the British attitude in the present European conflict should be.

Sir Edward Grey told the House of Commons he had given France the assurance that if the German fleet came into the English Channel or through the North Sea to undertake hostile operations against the French coast or shipping, the British fleet would give all the protection in its power.

Sir Edward Grey added that if a foreign fleet came down the English Channel to bombard the French coast, "We could not stand aside." He said the British fleets had been mobilized and mobilization of the British army was taking place, but that no arrangements had yet been made by the British government to send an expedition abroad.

Toward the close of his speech Sir Edward Grey said: "We must be prepared and we are prepared to face the consequences of using all our strength at any moment, we know not how soon, in order to defend ourselves."

Wild cheering from all parts of the house greeted John E. Redmond, the Nationalist leader, when he assured the government that every soldier in Ireland might be withdrawn tomorrow and the coasts of Ireland would be defended against invasion by her armed sons, the Catholics of the South and the Protestants of Ulster.

SALUTED BY A SONG.

Jenny Lind's Graceful Tribute to Our National Flag.

There is a pretty story told of the honor Jenny Lind once paid to the American flag. It was when she was in New York, more than sixty years ago. The frigate St. Lawrence had just returned from a cruise, and the midshipmen went to hear the Swedish nightingale sing at Castle Garden theater, and the next day they called on her in a body. Their enthusiasm and her graciousness soon brought about a visit to the ship and the acceptance of a luncheon tendered her. When she was about to leave the ship she looked up at the stars and stripes and said: "I wish to salute your flag." So, standing on the gangway, she sang "The Star Spangled Banner." Silently from all over the ship men gathered with uncovered heads until the ship's family were all assembled on deck. Nor were they her only audience, for borne upon the still air her song had been heard by many other vessels near by, and when the wondrous voice ceased steamers blew their whistles and exultant cheers rose from all sides, filling the harbor with their tribute of applause for the beloved artist and of loyal reverence for the flag she had so beautifully saluted.—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Condors in Chile.

The majestic condor is, air men excluded, the largest flying creature in the world. Swift and extraordinarily strong of wing, it figures in the Chilean national arms as a symbol of strength. The following is one of the native devices for killing it: The hunter, having covered himself with the skin of a newly slain ox, would lie on his back on the ground, while his companion would hide himself not far away. Down would swoop the condor to feast upon the carcass, but directly the claws touched the body they were seized from within the oxskin by strong gloved hands that held the bird a prisoner. Then the partner would break cover and slay the captive with what Chaucer would have called "a yerde smerck" from a club.—"Chile—Its Land and People."
